

A NOTE FROM RABBI VALERIE

Shabbat is a day of rest, of mental scrutiny and of balance. Without it, the workdays are insipid. (Chaim Nachman Bialik)

The time to study a little Torah, or to pray, or to meditate, can't be "when everything else is done" - because everything else is never done.
(Rabbi Rachel Barenblat)

Shabbat is the most important holiday – holy day – in Judaism. More times than I can count, I have said that if everyone in the world kept some kind of Sabbath, we would be a kinder world with much more peace. If everyone took 24 or 25 hours where we did nothing but be present with ourselves, with family and friends, with that which is Divine and Holy in the created world and beyond; if we took time to firmly place our feet on the earth and reach for the heavens at the same time in balance; reflected on our week and put our life in perspective; played and healed... or if we just stopped and were still, then the peace that we would inevitably find inside ourselves would connect all humanity.

Do I exaggerate? Imagine it: a weekly taste of the Messianic World, a time when all is right with every single person. A fully observed Shabbat worldwide, regardless of the day on which it was observed, would infuse the rest of the week with holiness.

We can start with ourselves and our families. Judaism is rich with rituals that help us observe Shabbat. Sometimes we need a prompt to get us started. I've suggested a few above, although they're more goals than concrete activities.

One of those goals is gathering with family and friends. We all know about our beautiful Shabbat gatherings on Friday nights, better known as Shabbat Services and Oneg. We may not know that we have a couple of Shabbat gatherings on Saturday morning. In addition to Torah Study, I would like to focus on a very special gathering, and present an invitation:

On Saturday mornings, our congregational children gather for joyful prayer through music. This Shabbat morning T'filah is led by Gitit and our song leaders, includes an interactive Torah Reading, Mi Shebeirach and Mourner's Kaddish among other prayers. We sing through most of the service, tunes you may be familiar with from Friday night.

There is nothing more joyful and praiseworthy than experiencing worship with our children. Our children are the doorway to seeing the Divine and Holy in the created world, and their inspired wisdom keeps our feet firmly planted on the ground at the same time as guiding us to reach for the heavens. Mornings may be my worst time of day, but Shabbat Morning Services with our children are filled with moments that are the best times of my week.

These services are meant to be our congregational service, so no invitation is really needed. I'm inviting you anyway; sometimes we need an invitation: Please join us for Shabbat Services, Saturday mornings (when Religious School is in session – check the calendar), 9:00 am in the JCC Auditorium. As you enter, just tell the desk attendant that you're from Temple Emanuel Sinai.

Shabbat is joy and healing and community and perspective, heaven and earth. Our children, the very source of blessing and life, teach us how to get there.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

A SPECIAL TIME

This year, specifically beginning June 30, 2023, will mark ten years since Temple Sinai and Temple Emanuel came together as one undivided congregation...one family. Tempus fugit! It seems like only yesterday that we were having steering committee meetings, cleaning out the May Street building, having a library sale, alternating services in each building, and getting to know one another. And who could forget Torah Trek and the Renovation Project which made us truly nomads? We all have our own memories of those days and of the subsequent growing pains and collaborative events that have brought us to where we are now.

We should mark this. We should celebrate! I think it's time to begin planning some events to honor this milestone, because as we have seen, time flies! There was a "visioning" group meeting a couple of months ago where some very excited folks got together to talk about what this year-long celebration could look like. There were some terrific ideas and concepts offered and discussed. But this group was only a very small one. If we hope to make this a fantastic year ahead, we need the involvement we had when we came together!

I know I sing this refrain all the time, but there must be some part of the planning process in which each of you would like to participate. There must be one event, however large or small, of which you would consider being a part. I'm certain we will have special services and guest speakers, along with lots of looking back at those beginnings. But we will also be focusing on our future and what the NEXT ten years will be like for TES.

It just seems to me that all of you, from past Presidents and Board members to brand new congregants, would love to make this an exciting time for us all. There will be more information to come, and I hope that all of you will be interested enough to join in the planning! Please let me know if you are, and of course, if you have any ideas we could add to the coming festivities.

I, along with the Executive Committee and Board of Directors and all our families, wish you a very healthy, happy, and prosperous 2023.

B'Shalom,
Paula Selvitella, President

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL AND YOUTH NEWS

Shalom from the Religious School! Happy secular New Year to you and your family! I hope you and your family had a nice holiday season! Before the break, our students were very busy working on Hebrew language, Jewish values, holiday, Jewish values, holiday, and Torah. Here is some information from our teachers!

Grades K-1

We are learning the Hebrew letters and the Torah stories. We celebrate the Jewish Holidays through art projects, songs, and yummy food.

Grade 2

We are learning the Hebrew letters, reviewing each week's Torah portion, working on kindness and respect for others and trying to build a stronger community. We are achieving this with crafts, workbooks, and class discussions.

Grade 3

We are working on learning about the Torah portions. The last one we worked on was where Isaac was almost sacrificed. The kids in this class really enjoy crafts so for this portion we drew little goats and fire and put them in a cup to symbolize the sacrifice. We are learning Hebrew up to level 4 and are learning the importance of G-d and respect.

Grades 4-5

We are doing a lot of Hebrew writing and reading. We are also working on Hebrew letters and vowels. Our class does a lot of different movement activities incorporating the Aleph-Bet. We are currently getting prepared for our Friday night service with the sixth and seventh grades. All and all we are strengthening our bond as a class.

Grades 6-7

We are trying to determine if becoming a Bar/Bat Mitzvah is for just a day or for a lifetime. We are exploring the difference between charity and tzedakah. Our students are spearheading the fundraiser Coats for Kids. We are looking for donors of all ages to donate their coats for kids who need them. We are working on interpreting the prayers for the reasons of understanding the themes, overarching meanings, and why we say the prayers.

The teachers and I are looking forward to continuing to learn and grow together in the upcoming months!

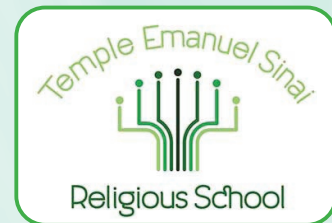

Tu B'Shevat, the 15th of Shevat on the Jewish calendar, celebrated on Sunday, February 5th with TES's Tu B'Shevat program being held on Monday, February 6th. This is the day that marks the beginning of a "new year" for trees. This is the season in which the earliest-blooming trees in the Land of Israel emerge from their winter sleep and begin a new fruit-bearing cycle. We mark the day of Tu B'Shevat by eating fruit, particularly from the kinds that are singled out by the Torah in its praise of the bounty of the Holy Land: grapes, figs, pomegranates, olives and dates. On this day we remember that "man is a tree of the field" (Deuteronomy 20:19), and reflect on the lessons we can derive from our botanical analogue. Our students will learn about the meaning of this important holiday by participating in various activities and lessons, as well as creating their own poems and short skits.

Snow Cancellation Policy

As the winter weather is soon upon us, please note that Temple Emanuel Sinai Religious School is following the Worcester Public Schools snow cancellation policy. If there is no school for the Worcester public schools, we will also be cancelled. If there is an early dismissal for the Worcester public schools OR for the Wachusett regional schools, we will be cancelled. An email will be sent to the parents.

Calendar Update

1/14 - No school MLK weekend
2/10 - Grades 4 - 7 Friday night service
2/11 - URJ camp visit to the Religious School
2/18 - 2/25 - February break

Every Shabbat at our school, the students study the weekly Torah portion. If you would like to discuss the Torah portions ahead of time at home with your child, please check these child friendly websites.

Grade 4/5 Chanukah Art Project

It's hard to believe that Chanukah has come and gone along with 2022. As we warmly welcome 2023, we would love to share the expressive writing and marvelous display of art created by grades four and five for their 2022 Chanukah art project.

Chanukah, also known as the Festival of Lights, brought so much joy to our community, our families, and ourselves. It's a time to reflect upon the history behind the holiday, the miracle that happened, and what brings light into our lives.

Ellen Levitt, TESRS's Art Specialist, recently worked with the 4th and 5th grade class, taught by Emma Noce. We asked each student two questions... "What illuminates your soul?" and "What brings light into your life?". Each student took some time to reflect, then briefly responded in writing. The class came together to create a beautifully lit menorah. Rectangular strips of paper were artistically transformed into beautiful candles. Using freeform line designs enhanced with watercolors, candles were created and "lit" with brightly colored tissue paper flames.

Between the amazing art display and the personally meaningful reflective writing pieces, our Temple's foyer was once again brightly illuminated. Please stop by when visiting Temple Emanuel Sinai for services or whatever else may bring you here. The students and staff of TESRS hope that everyone had a happy and healthy holiday season and a great start to 2023!

Chag Sameach!

MUSIC NEWS

I cannot believe that Chanukah is behind us, and Purim is just around the corner. Time flies!

With Purim on the horizon, I cannot help but think about the current rise in antisemitism that we are facing in this country, and the world as a whole. Just like many of our holidays, on Purim, we celebrate the miracle of our survival in the face of hatred shown towards us. It is quite remarkable to think about our strength and endurance as a nation. But as they say, "what doesn't kill you makes you stronger", and I know that together, we will continue to successfully overcome every hurdle and obstacle along the way. "Layehudim hayta ora, v'simcha v'sasson v'yikar!"

Purim songs, like the holiday itself, are happy, funny, and playful. They talk about silly masks, colorful clowns, the hero Mordechai, villain Haman, King Achashverosh, and the heroine, beautiful and intelligent Esther. I think that Purim is one of the most beloved holidays for children. What I love most about Purim is that when it is time to celebrate it, I know that spring is about to arrive, a symbol of renewal and rejuvenation. At the Temple, we are preparing a very exciting Purim Spiel with the religious school students and are all very much looking forward to sharing it with you!

By now you must know how much enthusiasm I have for music, for singing, for learning new prayers, and for exploring new kinds of music from all over the world. And so, I have some exciting news that I would like to share with you! On January 15th, I will be starting a new music program at TES called "Sharim B'Yachad" – Singing Together This program is all about the music! "Sharim B'Yachad" will present American and Israeli songs with their interesting background stories as well as some liturgical music. And of course, there will be food! It will be so much fun, I cannot wait! Join me and enjoy a beautiful night of singing and good company.

I wish you a Happy Purim in advance,
Gitit
