

A NOTE FROM RABBI VALERIE

"The Shabbat of the Year." This is the best way to describe Jewish sleep-away camp. I don't know if the phrase was coined by Loui Dobin, former camp director of Greene Family Camp in Texas, but he is the first person I heard it from, and it stuck.

Children who attend Jewish camp experience it as the highlight of their year, the holiest time of their year – although they may not use the word "holy" to describe it. On the day after camp ends, they start counting down the days until they will return for the next summer.

As parents, grandparents, and anyone invested in the growth and vibrancy of Judaism and the Jewish People, we should be sending more of our children to Jewish sleep-away camp. Research has shown that Jewish camping is one of the most effective ways of creating strong Jewish identity in our young people. Jewish camps also build love for and knowledge of Judaism, the Jewish people, and a commitment to Tikkun Olam (repairing the world/social justice). Especially now, with the rise of antisemitism, attending a Jewish sleep-away camp is more important than ever. Camp can provide a safe space for our children to become more confident in themselves as well as create a "village" of support.

The evidence is apparent: talk to almost anyone who attended Jewish camp, and you'll find that they created life-long Jewish friends; still celebrate Jewish holidays and participate in Jewish rituals, albeit in their own way; and are active volunteers. Where can you find camp alumni? In your home, on your social media, at a synagogue and other Jewish institutions, engaging in Jewish learning opportunities, at a rally expressing their values, and participating in Jewish arts and music festivals.

I have married so many people who met each other at camp, starting with the person I married – my husband! Jonathan and I met at Greene Family Camp in Texas in the early 1990s, working on staff together. Since then, I have officiated at many weddings of young adults who met at camp, and one of my favorites was of a young man whose parents met at the same camp where he met his fiancé!

Camp not only teaches Judaism and Jewish values, it also teaches our children independence, social skills, and how to have fun without a screen. Camp is the greatest gift you can give to a child. Sending them to camp is also a gift to you - parents and caregivers, and to the entire Jewish community.

We are lucky to have three excellent Jewish sleep-away camps in our region as part of the Union for Reform Judaism (URJ): Crane Lake Camp and Eisner Camp, both in the Berkshires; as well as 6 Points Sci-Tech Camp, which is a Jewish specialty camp focusing on science and technology from a Jewish perspective. The URJ also has two other specialty camps with multiple locations: sports camp and a creative arts academy.

Whatever your child is interested in, they can find it at camp. And camp is so important to our community and our congregation that there are multiple scholarships available, some that are currently sitting unused. If your child wants to go to camp, we will help make it possible.

Please contact me (rabbivaleriecohen@mail.com) to learn more.

Jewish sleep-away camp is life-changing – for your child, your family, and the future of the Jewish world.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

We have passed through the High Holy Days and Festivals of Sukkot and Simchat Torah. I hope you were able to attend our High Holy Day observances and Sukkot and Simchat Torah festivals as well. Organizing the services is not a small endeavor with the participation of our office staff, led by Jade Le'Jeune, our building supervisor Steve Contois, and our clergy, Rabbi Valerie and cantorial soloist Gitit Shoval, as well as a myriad of members of the congregation, finding individuals to participate in the services, the ark openers, the Torah and Haftarah readers, the ushers/greeters inside the building and the security volunteers outside the building.

These programs are not prepackaged, so to speak, but put together by our clergy and congregants. We have a variety of committees available for participation by our members, and you can make a difference in the life of the congregation. These lay led committees do the work of the congregation, whether it is managing the nuts and bolts of the building by the Properties/Technology committee, the outreach to our own members through the Caring Committee, or outreach to the community at large via the Interfaith Hospitality Network and Racial Justice Alliance and Anti-Semitism Awareness groups, or putting our best image forward through Publicity and Membership efforts, or educating ourselves through the activities of the Lifelong Learning Committee, or insuring our efforts to maintain a solid financial footing through the Finance and Endowment committees, or looking to imagine what we will be in 5-10 years via the Futuring Committee, or keeping our community safe via the Security Committee.

There are many opportunities available. We know that participating in social groups makes for healthy individuals, and improves longevity. Participating in any of the synagogue committees, and attending programs facilitates this goal, and assists in G-d's work as well. Please contact the office, or talk to members of the board of trustees if something interests you, or if you have a special expertise which you feel will further the goals of the congregation.

The bimonthly bulletin, and the weekly eNews have all the information about our programs, as well as our website.

I hope this new year, 5785, is healthy, rewarding and fulfilling for all of you.

B'shalom,
Gary Wolf
President, Board of Trustees

MUSIC NEWS

Dear friends,

The High Holy Days services this year were truly exceptional, filled with moments that really moved and inspired me, from the deeply meaningful sermons by Rabbi Valerie to the exceptional musicians who shared the bimah with me and added richness to our prayers. Kol Halev, our temple's very own singing group, uplifted us with their beautiful voices. It was a time of reflection and renewal. I'm always in awe of how music and words come together during this sacred time to touch our hearts and souls.

As we transition into the next season, I'm excited to announce that we have a special Chanukah event planned! Mark your calendars for Sunday, December 22nd, when we will be joined by the incredible band Jacob's Ladder. Their vibrant music will bring warmth and joy to our Chanukah celebration. I can't wait to share this special time with all of you!

I wish everyone a season of light and joy!
Gitit

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL AND YOUTH NEWS

Shalom from our Religious School!

As the secular year comes to an end, we are thrilled to share the wonderful progress happening in our Religious School! Our students have been working hard, learning and growing in their knowledge of Hebrew, preparing for Hanukkah, and engaging in acts of kindness.

Hebrew Language Progress

Our students have made great strides in their Hebrew language studies! From mastering reading the aleph-bet to reading basic words and sentences, we are proud of the dedication and enthusiasm shown by each class. In addition, students have been diligently learning and practicing key Hebrew prayers. From the Shema to the Amidah, each class is developing a deeper understanding of the prayer's meanings and significance.

Chanukah Preparation and Celebration

The festival of lights is just around the corner, and we've been busy preparing for this joyous holiday! During November and December, students will be learning about the story of Chanukah, the significance of the Hanukkah (menorah) and the miracle of the oil. Our Chanukah preparation includes creating arts and crafts, learning blessings, practicing traditional Chanukah songs and making delicious edible dreidels.

Our school-wide Chanukah Celebration will be on Saturday, 12/21. We will light the menorah together, sing, and enjoy special Chanukah programs and treats!

Coats for Kids Donations

As the weather gets colder, we are proud to announce our annual Coats for Kids Drive! We are collecting new coats, hats, gloves, and scarves to donate to students in the Worcester Public Schools. You can send a donation with your child from now until December 15th. We will also have a collection bin at the Worcester JCC.

Upcoming Dates to Remember

November 8: Friday night early service led by grades 6/7

November 11: No school Veterans Day weekend

November 27 - 30: No school. Thanksgiving break

December 25 - January 1: No school. Winter break

We're looking forward to a wonderful few months filled with learning, celebration, and community! Thank you for your continued support in helping our students thrive.

2024/5785 Chanukah Dinner and Program featuring Jacob's Ladder Bluegrass Band

Sunday, December 22

We invite everyone to come join us for our annual Chanukah Dinner and Music Program!

The evening begins with dinner, Chanukah candle lighting and songs, followed by activities for kids, and ending with a very special musical performance by Jacob's Ladder Bluegrass Band. This program is sure to be fun for all ages! Stay tuned to the eNews for updates on times.

Jacob's Ladder is an internationally touring band seeking to push the boundaries of contemporary Jewish music and traditional American Roots music through Jewish communal singing and prayer. In melding these two musical worlds, they tell their story through Eastern European Ashkenazic and Sephardic Jewish traditions, but also through their American heritage and its influence on their unique musical style. Their debut album "Beit El" explores genre-bending across choral and cantorial traditions finding their way into communal prayer, rock, West-African styles, bluegrass, and American folk song.

Hasia Diner is a professor emerita of American Jewish History and former chair of the Irish Studies program at New York University. She is the author of numerous books on Jewish and Irish histories in the U.S. She has also held Guggenheim and Fulbright fellowships and served as Director of the Goren Center for American Jewish History at NYU.
