

A NOTE FROM RABBI VALERIE

Community for Chanukah

A parent recently came to me about an antisemitic incident their child experienced at school. Sadly, this conversation is not new for me as a rabbi. No matter where I've served, parents have shared stories like this—sometimes directly, sometimes only after the fact. I suspect there are more incidents than most of us realize. In this particular case, I was grateful that the school responded quickly and thoughtfully, which is not always the norm.

Together, the parent and I looked for resources for their child, for the student who made the hurtful comment, and for the school as a whole. We agreed that the goal shouldn't be to focus on Jews in particular, but rather to help students learn about the many ways people are different—and how we can celebrate those differences while still coming together as one community.

While exploring materials, I found a beautiful resource on the PJ Library website: The Christmas Menorahs: How a Town Fought Hate by Janice Cohn. First published 30 years ago and reissued recently, it tells the true story of how the people of Billings, Montana, came together in 1993 after a brick shattered a Jewish child's window during Hanukkah. In a powerful show of solidarity, thousands of residents—churches, civic groups, and neighbors—placed drawings and paper menorahs in their own windows. Their unity inspired what became the national "Not In Our Town" movement, which continues today to "stop hate, address bullying, and build safe, inclusive communities for all."

This, I believe, is what it means to be or lagoyim—a light to the nations. Do we have the courage and stamina to respond to hate not only by protecting ourselves but also by helping to make the world better for others? Some days it can feel impossible. But I hold onto the words of Henry David Thoreau: "If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. Now put foundations under them." Yes, it is possible. It will take work—and faith—but the foundation can be built.

As Chanukah and the holiday season approach, may we bring our own light to the darkness and be illuminated by the light of others: through the candles burning in the Chanukiah, through strings of lights on houses and yards, through Christmas trees twinkling in windows, and through stars in the night sky. These combined lights remind us that we part of something greater.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

You Matter

I am writing these comments in the days following our High Holy Day services, though you are reading them many weeks later (such is the curious timing of TES Bulletin publication). My mind overflows with fond memories: seeing our congregants—both members and guests—at Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, witnessing the enthusiastic participation of youth at Family Services, listening to Rabbi Valerie's inspiring words from the bimah, and hearing the beautiful music created and organized by Gitit Shoval. I am continually grateful for the support and involvement of so many volunteers—both inside and outside our building—as we strive to create a safe, welcoming place of belonging for all, including our online community.

Without your support, none of this could happen. And I am talking about more than your annual financial commitment as members—I mean your input, your volunteer energy, and your active engagement in our programs and affinity groups. You matter. Your voice, your volunteerism, and your involvement are what make this community strong.

I often share how proud I am to serve as President of Temple Emanuel Sinai, standing on the shoulders of many dedicated Presidents who came before me. Some have told me that I'm still in the "honeymoon period" when they see my enthusiasm. I always smile at that—whether or not it's true, serving in this role is something I treasure every day and continue to learn from.

Please let me know how we can ensure Temple Emanuel Sinai is a place of greater welcome and belonging—for you, your family, and your guests. You can approach me or any Board member any time, because you truly matter.

As the days grow shorter and the outside temperature grows lower, let's remember that the Hebrew word Chanukah means "dedication." The miracle of oil lasting far beyond expectations when the Maccabees reclaimed and rededicated the Temple is a reminder that even limited resources can endure when we contribute together. Even small gifts of time, talent, or resources can bring lasting impact when each person participates.

Carrying this analogy further, every candle on our menorah adds light and warmth, just as each of you strengthens the spirit and success of Temple Emanuel Sinai.

You can always reach me at president@emanuelsinai.org. I look forward to hearing from you.

Shalom,
Stuart Sadick

MUSIC NEWS

Music is my life. But beyond that, it is my very being. It was never a choice to be a singer or a musician; music chose me. It is my calling. Music is the heartbeat of worship, a sacred language of the soul. It lifts our praises to God, gives voice to joy and to sorrow, celebrates our triumphs, and whispers eternal truths. It weaves through faith and time, uniting hearts in devotion, binding us through sound and spirit to one another, and to God. I felt this deeply during the High Holidays, and now, as Hanukkah draws near, I find myself gathering songs, old and new, to honor the season of light. Winter invites stillness and reflection, and with the glow of Hanukkah candles, it becomes its own kind of worship.

Wishing us all a peaceful winter, enough snow to bring beauty, but not too many storms.

Always your,
Gitit

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL AND YOUTH NEWS

Shalom from our Religious School!

As we move into the heart of fall and approach the winter season, our classrooms are filled with the warmth of learning, laughter, and Jewish spirit. November and December are rich with meaning—from giving thanks to celebrating miracles. We're so proud of our students' growth and excited about the upcoming holiday celebrations.

Our students have been making fantastic strides in their Hebrew learning! From mastering the Alef-Bet to reading full sentences with vowels, and to practicing blessings and prayers, each class has shown dedication and growth. In the spirit of gratitude, our classes spent time reflecting on what it means to give thanks. Students created beautiful "Thankfulness trees," with each leaf expressing something they're thankful for in their lives. We also explored Jewish values like hakarat hatov (recognizing the good), connecting the American holiday to timeless Jewish teachings.

Hanukkah is almost here, and we've been busy preparing for the Festival of Lights! Singing Hanukkah songs. Learning the story of the Maccabees, exploring the meaning behind lighting the menorah and creating beautiful Hanukkah crafts and dreidels are only some of the fun activities we did at our school.

This year, we continue with our annual "Coats for Kids" Tzedakah project. We are collecting new coats for children in need. Please bring donations to the school or to the JCC. Let's teach our students the power of tzedakah and chesed — giving with kindness and justice.

Dates to remember:

- Grades 6/7 Friday night service: 11/14/25
- Thanksgiving break/no school: 11/26/25 -11/29/25
- Religious School Dec break: 12/24/25 -1/3/26

Todah Rabbah (Thank you!) for your continued support in helping your children grow in their Jewish learning and identity.

Wishing you a season filled with warmth, light, and joy!
Talía

URGENT KIDNEY NEEDED

SCAN TO SEE IF YOU QUALIFY

For the past year Jared has quietly been battling Chronic Kidney Disease and he is now in desperate need of your help. His disease has progressed quickly and he is in End Stage Renal Failure. His only hope of a future is a new kidney. Will you consider being a live kidney donor for Jared?

FACTS ABOUT LIVING KIDNEY DONATION

- You only need one kidney to live a long, healthy life.
- Recovery is generally 1-2 days in the hospital and most people return to their regular daily activities after two weeks.
- The cost of your evaluation and surgery will be covered by Jared's insurance.
- You will have a separate team of healthcare professionals to evaluate you as a living donor. Their job is to help you understand the risks and benefits and look out for YOUR best interests.

CARING COMMITTEE

As the secular year winds down and we enter the season of gratitude and reflection, the Caring Committee remains dedicated to supporting our Temple Emanuel Sinai community. Whether through check-in calls or notes of condolence or congratulations, we partner with Rabbi Valerie in her pastoral outreach to ensure that no one feels alone.

The winter months can bring added challenges for some in our community. We are especially mindful of those who may be navigating illness, loss, or isolation during the holidays. We will continue reaching out with compassion, and we invite you to help us extend that care.

If you're interested in joining the Caring Committee or would like to learn more about how you can help, please reach out to us. Every act of kindness strengthens our community.

SOCIAL ACTION COMMITTEE

Got Sneakers?

As young students (with their quickly growing feet) prepared for a new school year the Social Action Committee offered an athletic shoes recycling program. Your generous donations of used sneakers, many of them in very good condition, were passed along to our partners at Got Sneakers? Most of these were kept out of landfills and incinerators and the sneakers earned a small financial donation to the TES Greening Initiative, a program which seeks to reduce our institutional and communal waste and to limit environmental harm.

High Holy Day Food Drive

Our long running annual fall food drive straddles holy days of repentance and fasting, and the celebration of gratitude for ethical instruction in scripture and a harvest of food abundance. We especially sought (and often received) donations of food that had cultural resonance to the personal or ancestral origins of many of those in need. Once again we worked in partnership with Rachel's Table, a program of the Jewish Federation of Central Massachusetts, and with the South Worcester Neighborhood Center's food pantry.

Dignity, Not Deportations

Hundreds of people are being abducted daily by militarized and masked ICE agents without any due process. Under Massachusetts law government officials can partner with ICE by aiding in arrests or providing jail cells. A state bill called Dignity, Not Deportations would remove that discretion. We are working to influence legislators with the TES Racial Justice Alliance and our allies at JALSA (the Jewish Alliance for Law and Social Action) and at RAC MA (the Massachusetts affiliate of the Religious Action Center of Reform Judaism).

Use of Kitchen Durables

A few years ago, thanks to many generous congregant donations, the TES Greening Initiative was able to acquire attractive and matching complete place settings for about 150 people. Along with a high-speed dishwasher and food composting capacity this makes it possible for us to minimize kitchen waste and single use disposables. These dishes, glasses, and silverware are used consistently for some TES sponsored programs. They are also usually available at no cost for use at TES for a shiva, simcha, and at other programs.

Contact socialaction@emanuelsinai.org for info about our work or any of these items.
